REMINISENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

Gleanings From the Records Left By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

Although in its earlier history SanM ateo county achieved a rather unpleasant notoriety because of the number of serious crimes committed within itsborders, Redwood City—its chief center of population—kept singularly clear of troubles of this character and regularly maintained a generally peaceful reputation. With murders chronicled with rather frequent regularity in other portions of the country, it was not until May 10,1884, or nearly 30 years after the founding of the town that violance claimed its first victim. When the crime was committed and the circumstances which led up to thetragedy it was one which caused wide spread notoriety, and ended with unpleasant results for others besides its victim, for it was generally conceeded a little later that it was the direct cause of thedefeat of Sheriff Hatch in his second campaign for office. The The first scene of this crime was laid in the little town of Belmont, then quite widely known as the location of an enticingpicnic resort. While as a rule these picnics gatherings were composed of excursionists of the better class of residents of San Francisco and other neighboring sections, as seems to be the general unfortunate rule with such places, occasionally members of the rougher classes secured the use of the grounds and scenes ofdisorder and crime were the inevitable result. One of these cases occurred on Sunday previous to the killing. At this picnic a young girl, Miss Annie Sweeney, then little over 15 years of age, was enticed from the grounds and outraged. The girl laid this crime at the door of Henry Casey, a young man employed as an engraver by Crocker &Co., of San Francisco. Before the picnic was over the outrage was reported to Sheriff Hatch and young Casey was captured on the train while returning to San Francisco and was brought to Redwood City and locked up in the county jail pending an examination in Court. While the evidence collected seemed to indicate that there was good ground for the accusation against the young man it also seemed to indicate that the victim was far from as innocent as she might have been and the majority of public sentiment seemed to indicate there was little likelihood that Casey would be held to answer for the crime charged. However, what the result of the preliminary examination might have been will never be known, for long before its conclusion the accused young man paidfor his rash act with his life, having been killed by the father of the girl in an open session of the court and while surrounded by the officers of the law. The preliminary examination was held before Justice of the Peace Walsh of this township, but as it was found that the courtroom would be too small to accommodate the crowd attracted an adjournment was taken to the rooms of the Superior Court and it as in this precinct of justice that the final tragedy was enacted. When the examination was finlaly commenced the courtroom was crowded and Judge Buck, then Distrcit Attorney, made an attempt to have the room cleared by making a motion that all spectatorsbe excluded, but Justice Walsh refused to entertain the motion of thedistrict attorney, simply ordering that all over young people be ordered to leave, and the hearing was proceeded with in the presence of a considerable crowd. The prosecution completed the offering of its testimony, which was far from strong against the young man, and the first witness for the defense was testifying at the time of the final ragedy. This witness, a fellow employee of Young Casey, had testified that Casey could not have been with the girl during the time charged, when the proceedings were interrupted by a pistol shot fired by Daniel Sweeney, the father of the girl. Sweeney had entered the room shortly before the last witness began his testimony and taken his seat a short distance in the rear of theprisoner. Just as the witness had testified that he had been with the prisoner all afternoon, Sweeney drew his revolver from a side pocket and began shooting the doomed young man in fired, Dr. Ross, who was standing the back. As the first shot was near, made an attempt to disarm Sweeney, but did not succeed in doing so until the thirdshot had been fired. He then went to the aid of the wounded man, but a cursory examination satisfied him that the injuries were fatal. The dying man made a statement declaring that he had not been guilty of the crime with which he was charged, and before his death he was publicly informed by Justice Walsh that it as his opinion that if the examination had proceeded to its close he would have been discharged. Up to the time he was driven by desperation to commit this rash act, Daniel Sweeney had borne a good reputation in San Francisco, where he was employed as a foreman - carpenter. Sweeney was placed under arrest and held until June 3d, when he was given a preliminary examination before the same justice. After a lengthy hearing, at hich many witnesses were examined and much of the original chrage was again gone over, Sweeney was finally discharged, Justice Walsh accepting a plea of emotional insanity. Many people blamed the tragedy to remissness on the part of Sheriff Hatch, making the claim that he was aware of the fact that the father of the girl had beenintown for a day or two and that he was much worked u over the predicament of his daughter. They insisted that he should have taken the precaution to have searched Sweeney and not to have permitted him to enter the courtroom with a pistol in his possession. This criticism did much at the time to undermine the popularity of the Sheriff.

AUTOMOBILIST HIGHLY RECOMMENDS COUNTY ROADS

An automobile expert who knows good roads when he rides over them, pays a high tribute to the highways of the First, Second Fourth and Fifth townships in a recent issue of the Examiner and recommends the bay and coast route for motorists as the best and most scenic when going to Santa Cruz. The article is in part as follows:

The usual road from this city to San Mateo is followed to the road which branches off to the Crystal Springs lakes, where a turn is made to the right and the latter road followed beyond the lakes and to Halfmoon Bay. The road from San Mateo to Halfmoon Bay is fine and broad, with no objectionable grades.

At Halfmoon Bay a turn is made to the left, with the towns of Purissima, San Gregorio and Pescadero as the immediate objective points.

For miles the car bowls along up and down pitches and grades of various lengths. At times the motorist is hidden in cuts and then again he finds himself on the heights overlooking the Pacific Ocean. In places the road is dusty or sandy, but at no place, with the exception of a stretch about 100 yards immediately north of Pigeon Point lighthouse, is this impediment so great that it makes traveling difficult.

At Pescadero the motorist may, if he chooses, take the road around to Pebble Beach or take the road to the left over the hill, and on to Pigion Point and Ano Nuevo Point lighthouse. Just beyond the latter point the car hits the road along the cliffs and for about one mile the motorist is treated to the most interesting sight of the entire trip.

To the left the cliffs rise perpendicularly for hundreds of feet and on the right is the ocean. The road along here is not unlike that of a scenic railway of an amusement park, for it is a series of dips and rises, up and down, which the car's own momentum will carry i nicely, and, incidentally, to the great delight of the passengers.

STEPHEN MORI'S SECOND TRIAL NEXT MONDAY.

The second trial of Stephen Mori of Brighton Beach, for the murder of William Harvey Fitzgerald, Spanish War veteran, last December, will begin next Monday before Judge Buck.

Fitzgerald was shot and killed while on a hunting trip with his son Duncan. The defendant claims that Fitzgerald was trespassing and that he shot him in self-defense.

District Attorney Franklin Swart and Lewis F. Byington, former district attorney of San Francisco, will prosecute the case. The jury in the first trial disagreed.

REDWOOD AND SAN JOSE FIGHT HARD BATTLE

The local team lost a hard fought game last Sunday to Emerson's San Jose team. Two hits were secured off Emerson by the local team and San Jose secured two hits off of Ross. Emerson's team is the best team that Redwood has met this year.

The game was played at Luna Park during a celebration of the San Jose Eagles. Noticeable on the grand stand were the Redwood fans who far outnumbered the attendance by San Jose fans.

Elmer Emerson has worked hard to put baseball on at San Jose and certainly deserves the patronage to warrant the sport, at least from a city of 50,000.

The local team appreciated the attendance from Redwood and the fans pronounced it one of the best games of the season. Emerson will bring his team to Redwood this month and then you will see a baseball game.

Sunday afternoon Redwood's team will cross bats with the Mavericks of San Francisco, under the management of the popular Joe Solari. Joe is a favorite with the local fans and as he always brings a good bunch a good attendance is expected.

SACRAMENTO STATE FAIR WILL OPEN AUGUST 26.

The State Fair Grounds at Sacramento have taken on the appearence of considerable activity during the past week. in preparation for the opening of the exposition on the 26th instant. The three concrete buildings which will be used for dairy and livestock exhibits, are rapidly nearing completion. The side concrete forms of the milking barn and refrigerator buildings have been put in place and within the next week or so will be plastered with concrete.

One disagreeable feature of the fair grounds last year was the constant dust arising from the road to the discomfort of the fair visitors. This is being remedied by a thick layer of crushed granite rock upon the roads and walks and then rolled to a compact and durable surface. Laying of lawns in suitable sections of the grounds is another matter which has been given serious consideration in order to make the grounds as attractive as possible.

A large enclosed concrete sewer to drain the grounds and livestock buildings has been constructed to do away with the open ditch in use heretofore, which made a section of the grounds unsightly.

The poultry exhibit building which was adjacent to the track and interfered with prospective plans for the extension of the grand stand, had to be moved westward of its former location and placed next to machinery hall.

The foundation work for the new grandstand has been finished and workmen have started erecting the superstructure which will be pushed to completion. An innovation which will appeal to women very strongly, will be the construction of a number of retiring rooms for women and children.

Dr. N. C. Bissell, late of Marysville, will locate in Redwood. He has rented offices in the Drew Building on Broadway and will reside with his family in the Lowe cottage on El Camino Real.

The Right Reverend L. C. Sanford, Bishop of the San Joaquin diocese, will preach in St. Peter's Episcopal church Sunday evening, the 13th instant. Services will commence at 8 o,clock.

Mrs. Lila Kirkpatrick returned Friday from the southern part of the state where she has been for the past three months.

GOOD ENOUGH FOR US.

While it may be true, as the Rev. Sumner of Chicago told the National Educational Convention at San Francisco the other day, that "The Star Spangled Banner," our National anthem, is sung to the air of an old drinking song, and that "America" is set to the tune of "God Save the King," what difference does it make? Surely the years in which these songs have been used in this country, with the inspiring words written to fit the American principles of freedom, have purged them of any possible taint of roistering or royalty. At any rate they are firmly settled in the hearts of the American people. Very possible not more than one man in a hundred or one woman in ten knows more than the first stanza of "The Star Spangled Banner," and comparatively few persons can sing "America" through, but they belong to us and we are going to keep them, no matter what pedants may say.

GOOD RESULTS EVIDENT.

The value to a cummnnity of harmonious and united action is being made evident by the work of the San Mateo Development Association. Although the work of forming this organization has hardly been fully accomplished, the good results to be obtained have already been made manifest. While the granting of the concession of half fare rates for those attending schools by the railway company, constitutes but a tithe of the rights the people of the county consider their due, it is a plain indication of what may be expected in the near future. With encouragement of this first evidence of success, the efforts of the Association along this important line will be redoubled, and there is every reason to hope that the effort for improved transportation facilities thus commenced will soon end in a realization of every demand made.

Nor is the work being confined to this inportant line. Already much has been done in the way of making known to the world the possibilities and attractions of the couuty. A campaign of active publicity has been outlined and is being energetically pursued. Plans are already under way to attract the attention of the myriad of visitors which must come to us with the opening of the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

If we are to secure the deisred results from this work, the Association must have an even more enthusiastic support. To accomplish the vast work already laid out money in no nigardly sums must be provided. In all reason those who are to benefit by the work should provide the funds. This means that every individual in the county should do a share, for what ever benefits the county benefits to some extent at least each individual citizen. It is not enough that the San Mateo County Development Association has your good wishes, it must have your active support, both moral and financial.

GETTING HIS TRUE MEASURE.

As time goes on it is becoming more and more evident that long before the next presidential election the Republican party will again present a united and harmonious front. Gradually the men who have sought to make capital for themselves out of the progressive spirit of the age which has been manifested in the party are being measured at their true worth. Slowly, but surely, they are finding themselves deserted by the following of Republicans who at the first blush were mislead by their cry of "reform the party," and are being read out of the party by the very men who once hailed them as leaders.

Even such leaders of the "progressives" as the San Jose Mercury—an insurgent of the Insurgents—refuses longer to countenance the leadership of such "reformers" as La Follette and his ilk. In discussing the question, "Has the Insurgent Movement Collapsed?" the Murcury says: Our answer to this question must depend upon a definition of terms. If by the Insurgent movement is meant the movement which is due to the progressive spirit which is throbbing and pulzzing all over the country, them it is silly to speak of it as having collapsed. But, if by the Insurgent movement is meant the activites of a small coteries ot men whose chief is La Follette, then, as the matter now looks, it has collapsed. The machine they have been laboriously framing together seems to have gone over the bank and is tumbling down towards the bottom.

La Follette and his coadjutors have virtually left the Republican party. Henceforth they are to be regarded as without instead of within the party. They have attacked the president and every one of the leading measures of his administration. In consequence of his opposition to reciprosity La Follette has lost the confidence of a large majority of even those who agree with his contention. A man with the slightest perception can detect the animus behind his action. He seems to be obsessed with an overweening ambition for political power, especially for the presidency.

If Taft were out of his way, that would not help La Follette. Under no circumstances would the people make him president. They never take men of his stripe. No man can rise to high places in this country on stepping-stones of his own grudges and hatreds. This has been tried on previous occasions in this country, but it has never succeeded.

Candidates For Criminal Honors

Charles Prelipp, aged 15, and Otto Swart, aged 14, two city youths, were arrested Monday night by Officer McGlynn while driving through town. McGlynn suspected that the horse driven by the boys was stolen and when he took them into custody he found that his guess was correct. The boys admitted the theft. The horse was almost driven to death, having made the journey from San Francisco in four hours. The next day the animal was recovered by its owner. The boys will be sent to a reform school.

County Boosters Will Hold Next Big Rallies at Daly City and Menlo Park

This is for the readers of this paper. If you have an idea as to what and how the boosters should advertise this county in the rooms of the California Development Board in San Francisco let them know. A unique, eye-arresting exhibit is wanted. Have you such an idea? If so, give it to the boosters' manager. Use of it to the county's best advantage will be made.

At the meeting of the Board of Governors of the Development Association held Tuesday night, it was fully decided that the next two booster meetings would be held at Daly City and Menlo Park. The county's youngest municipality will be visited on the evening of August 16th, where the boosters will hold forth under the auspices of the Civic Betterment League, the Menlo meeting being held on the following Saturday evening. Already considerable rivalry has arisen between the two towns and to which shall stand sponser for the most successful meeting and at the present time the race is close.

San Jose, according to newspaper dispatches, has cast her lot with Alameda county in the efforts that Oakland is making to secure the major portion of the state highway fund and the boosters will wage a campaign to bring back the weak sister of peninsula municipalities to the fold where her geographical location should hold her—that is in league with San Francisco, San Mateo county and the remainder of the peninsula. The strength of the local organization has now reached a point where this can no doubt be accomplished with the aid of the various allied interests in San Francisco that are working hand in hand with the county boosters.

Remember those exhibit ideas. We want them. Write or phone the Development Association at San Mateo. Or better yet, drop into the office in the city hall.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Redwood City Citizens Show the Way.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of serious kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that these ills can be cured. Read what a Redwood City citizen says:

Fred Haussler, 101 Stambaugh St., Redwood City Cal., says: "My kidneys were disordered and the kidney secretions were unnatural. Knowing that difficulties of this kind often result seriously if allowed to go unchecked, I was anxious to get relief. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I got a box at P. A. Ryan's Drug Store and their use completly removed my trouble. In July 1907 I publicly testified in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills and at this time I gladly confirm that statement. This fact justifies my speaking more highly than ever of Doan's Kidney Pills."

ABSTRACTS AND CERTIFICATES OF TITLE TO LANDS AND LOTS IN SAN MATEO CO. FURNISHED PROMPTLY. INCORPORATED 1908

HOPS VALUED BY LOOKS AND AROMA.

Best Are Raised In Bohemia, Bavaria and Parts of England.

According to the prevailing opinions, which, according to some American growers, are mere prejudices, the best hops are raised in Bohemia, Bavaria and some parts of England, notably Kent. Most American brewers as well as their European brothers value hops largely by their appearance and their aroma. This matter is being thrashed out thoroughly in connection with the barley and hop exhibition which will be held in Chicago Oct. 12-22. As in the case of other aromatic plants, the sources of the aroma are not well understood. Aroma usually depends upon such minute particles of substance that even the delicate reactions in the chemical laboratory are frequently inadequate to discover them. The high prices which are paid, for instance, for certain wines are based upon their flavor or aroma, and yet this flavor or aroma cannot be discovered by chemical analysis. It is not surprising, therefore, that the substances which contain the flavor or aroma of hops have never been ascertained with certainty. There is a theory that they are closely associated with the soft resins contained in the lupulin, or the hop flour, which is found between the bracts of the cone and which is really the essential part of the hop plant.

As for the color of the hops, various preferences prevail, some preferring the varieties which are entirely green, while others think the yellowish green is preferable. In this country the yellowish kinds are usually preferred, while in Germany the green ones have the call.

Inasmuch as the brewing value of hops depends largely upon the lupulinic acid and the soft resins and the American hops are unusually rich in soft resins, American hop growers need have no fear of entering the prize competition at Chicago under the rules which have been adopted for the jury which is to judge the hops.

AWARDS OF PRIZES FOR HOP EXHIBITS.

Conditions That Will Govern In This Class.

Awards of prizes will be made according to the following rules for hops entered in the second international barley and hop prize exhibition to be held at Chicago, Oct. 12-22, 1911:

The awards will consist of twenty-one prizes, the highest amounting to $150.

For the purpose of prize distribution each distinct hop growing section (foreign or domestic) will constitute a class by itself. The following American sections are recognized as distinct for this purpose: (1) New York state, (2) California, (3) Oregon, (4) Washington, (5) British Columbia.

Hops grown outside of these sections will be considered as belonging to that section which conforms most closely to their districts geographically and climatically, in the discretion of the committee on awards.

All samples of hops must be certified to have been grown by the exhibitor.

The amount of hops offered for exhibit must be at least ten pounds, with six clusters of about twelve cones each.

BOULEVARD MAY JOIN FAIR OAKS AND BURLINGAME

It is stated that a new road will shortly be built from the Woodside road northward through the Blinn and Goodwin properties and the Hooper tract to connect with Jefferson avenue. The purpose of the road is to give Menlo Country Club access to their grounds and fine new building now being erected on the western foothills. The road would connect with the Alameda de las Pulgas, making a direct drive to the Fair Oaks section where many of the club patrons reside. It is possible that its route would be continued northly beyond Jefferson avenue thus completing the gap that exists in the Alameda and making the road a continuous one to Belmont.

From that point there is a movement to continue northward along the foothills as far as Burlingame, joining Fair Oaks and Burlingame, the county's two aristocratic centers, by a most attractive boulevard.
